

STORYTELLING

Adding story points and graphs.

You can annotate directly parts of the graphs:

The screenshot shows the 'Edit Annotation' dialog box. It has a toolbar with various formatting options like font size (10), bold (B), italic (I), underline (U), and color. The text area contains the annotation: 'wtf is happening why are so many people buying'. The 'OK' button is highlighted.
